

BERLIN ON "GREATEST BATTLE IN HISTORY"

The Daily Mirror

CERTIFIED CIRCULATION LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER DAILY PICTURE PAPER

No. 4,206.

Registered at the U.P.C.
as a newspaper.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1917

One Penny.

PETROGRAD'S "CHELSEA PENSIONERS": BULGARIA'S AGED LIBERATORS WHO WANTED TO PUNISH TREACHERY.

Greybeards all, they wanted to fight against the Bulgarians, whom they helped to free from the Turks. They are very bitter on the subject of King Ferdinand's treachery.

Though the weather is bitterly cold, he is always at his post.

Petrograd has no more picturesque figures than the old Grenadiers, who, no matter how bitter the weather, guard the city's statues and buildings. The battalion was formed in 1827 by the Emperor Nicholas I. in commemoration of the war against Napoleon, as he wished to show "his deep gratitude for the guards' bravery and devotion during the campaign." They wear old-fashioned uniforms, which look very strange these days,

In a church at Petrograd. They wear the French Army uniform at the time of Napoleon.

A veteran with his breast covered with medals. All have won the St. George's Cross.

and are the equivalent of our Chelsea Pensioners. None is under seventy years of age, and it was therefore impossible to gratify their wish to fight against the Bulgarians, but nearly all have sons in the army. One has two sons, who have both won the St. George's Cross, which will enable them to enter the regiment. No man is eligible unless he has won this decoration.—(From The Daily Mirror staff photographer in Russia.)

PROTEST SENT FROM BRITISH FRONT.

Premier Explains Action Against The "Nation."

"ENCOURAGING ENEMY."

"We had representations from Headquarters in France saying that the articles were most discouraging to soldiers."

This statement with regard to the suspension of the foreign circulation of the Nation was made by Mr. Lloyd George in the House of Commons last night.

He said that any action against Nation was taken, not on account of attacks on him (the Premier) or any other member of the Government; it was done in the ordinary course of action by a Government Department following precedents set up by the late Government.

The same action as was taken in the case of the Nation was taken first in the case of the London Leader without any protest being raised in the House.

The same War Office official acted in both cases after consultation with the Home Office.

The action was taken in both cases because it was considered the articles were encouraging the enemy.

For some time articles had appeared in the Nation calling for peace. That was the general drift of the articles on the ground that a military victory was impossible; that it was practically a deadlock.

"ENCOURAGING THE FOE."

These articles culminated in the article of March 3, which said that in regard to the German retreat our soldiers had been found wanting and out-maneuvered by the enemy.

Four Government Departments considered the matter fully, and they each separately came to exactly the same conclusion, that it was extraordinarily mischievous to allow articles of such a kind to appear.

There was no interference with the circulation of the Nation in this country, but having regard to the circumstances they were entitled to say, when the enemy themselves thought the articles were an encouragement to their own forces and a discouragement to ours that for the protection of our soldiers abroad and our people at home the export of such articles should be stopped.

Mr. Churchill said that having read the offending articles he could not see what reasonable ground there was for taking exception to them. They contained nothing nearly so alarmist or prejudicial as statements which had been made in the House by the Prime Minister and members of the Government.

Everything in the articles made mild reading compared with the Marlborian report.

Mr. Samuel thought the Government had made a serious mistake.

Mr. Bonar Law expressed himself as being in complete disagreement with Mr. Samuel. When we were at war, if there was any doubt, the scale should be weighted on the side which would not cause us to do.

Sir H. Dalziel considered that the whole method of the Government in the matter was wrong.

The matter was talked out, and the House rose at 11.24 p.m.

NO ELECTION MAJORITY.

A statement on the Government's efforts to settle the Irish question was made last night in the House of Commons by Mr. Bonar Law.

He said the Government had done their best to devote themselves to the task so far as the exigencies of the war enabled them to do so.

The Premier had hoped to make a definite statement on the subject that night, but his unexpected call to a conference would delay the statement.

He (Mr. Bonar Law) hoped that early next week it would be possible to state what the Government intended to do.

He considered that they need not absolutely despair of arriving at some solution.

OPPOSITION AT ALL STAGES.

It was during a debate on the Bill to extend the life of the present Parliament that Mr. Bonar Law made his statement.

Mr. Dillon, who moved the rejection of the Bill, said the Nationalist Party had been taunted with the threat that if an election took place they would be wiped out.

It would be cowardice on their part if they shrink in face of this taunt from the mouth of an election. He had therefore been compelled to announce that the Nationalist Party would vote against the Bill at all its stages.

More Men for the Army.—Mr. King asked the Prime Minister whether he could state when the measure for increasing the man power of our Army would be introduced and what were the main lines of the Government's proposals?

Mr. Bonar Law. A statement will be made on this subject in the near future.

It is stated that the Government will accede to the request for the holding of a secret session at an early date for the discussion of the question of man power, the air service and other matters.

Lord Devonport has written to Colonel Lockwood, M.P., Chairman of the House of Commons Kitchen Committee, pointing out the necessity of applying the food regulations recently issued to clubs, hotels, etc.

"DO NOT FORGET."

The King's Stirring Message to Australian Troops.

PARADE ON SALISBURY PLAIN

The King yesterday inspected on Salisbury Plain troops from the depot of the Australian Imperial Force.

His Majesty, who travelled by special train, wore a dark blue uniform, and was mounted on a charger, and as he reviewed the saluting base the troops gave the royal salute.

After the King had made a detailed inspection of the troops he personally pinned decorations on a number of officers and men for war service.

At the close of his Majesty sent the following message to Major-General the Hon. Sir Newton Moore:

Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men:

"I am very glad to have had an opportunity of inspecting the various training units of the Australian Imperial Force, and I wish to express my satisfaction with the appearance of a fine body of men on parade to-day."

"You will, I know, acquit yourselves with credit when your time comes to reinforce those splendid Australian Divisions at the front whose dash and fighting qualities have won the highest praise."

"Do not forget your kinsmen who have willingly given their lives for the Empire."

"Emulate their example and so preserve the proud record made by them in the great war."

"PEACE CRANK MUST GO."

"K. of K." Called a Murderer—Protest to Home Secretary.

The local authorities of the Home Counties have called attention to the very bitter feeling brewing throughout the East End against the aliens who are evading military service, and it is my duty to warn the authorities that if these meetings are permitted to be held in future you may expect further grave disorder.

In all my experience of the park I have never witnessed the like of Sunday's affair. Women fought women, and women attacked men."

"These meetings have been going on now since the war, and speakers of German sympathies have denounced the late Lord Kitchener as a — murderer."

"They have habitually reviled and slandered the Army with such statements as 'Every man who joins and shoulders a rifle is guilty of murder as any man who has answered for his crime at Newgate.'

U BOAT SHELLS VICTIMS.

Tragic Message from Torpedoed Schooner in a Bottle.

The Stavanger correspondent of the Tidens Tegn states, says a Revenue Christiania message, that a bottle has been washed ashore there containing a message from the Esther.

"Esther, a Esbjerg, sunk by U boat, April 12. Ship's lifeboats shelled by U boat, which left us in a rough sea and north-western gale. We probably cannot live through the night."

[The Esther was a Danish schooner of 231 tons.]

NOT THE TIME TO DISCUSS TERMS.

"It does not seem desirable to discuss possible peace terms."

This was the answer which the Prime Minister gave to a question which the Opposition asked him, and that the Government should inform the Germans that no terms of peace would be acceptable that did not provide for an investigation into the authorship of "crimes against the recognised restrictions of international law."

G. 11924 G.

It was during a debate on the Bill to extend the life of the present Parliament that Mr. Bonar Law made his statement.

Mr. Dillon, who moved the rejection of the Bill, said the Nationalist Party had been taunted with the threat that if an election took place they would be wiped out.

It would be cowardice on their part if they shrink in face of this taunt from the mouth of an election. He had therefore been compelled to announce that the Nationalist Party would vote against the Bill at all its stages.

More Men for the Army.—Mr. King asked the Prime Minister whether he could state when the measure for increasing the man power of our Army would be introduced and what were the main lines of the Government's proposals?

Mr. Bonar Law. A statement will be made on this subject in the near future.

It is stated that the Government will accede to the request for the holding of a secret session at an early date for the discussion of the question of man power, the air service and other matters.

Lord Devonport has written to Colonel Lockwood, M.P., Chairman of the House of Commons Kitchen Committee, pointing out the necessity of applying the food regulations recently issued to clubs, hotels, etc.

The taking of Vimy Ridge. A Canadian battalion establishes signalling headquarters and gets into communication with our aeroplanes.—(Canadian official)

62 HOURS AT WORK.

Doctor Who Dealt Singlehanded with 100 Cases of Wounds.

D.S.O. FOR MR. ASQUITH'S SON.

He worked continuously for sixty-two hours and, single-handed, attended to over 100 men. He has on many previous occasions done fine work."

The hero of this splendid example of self-sacrifice and devotion to duty is Captain Norman Parsons Jewell, M.B., of the East African Medical Service. Last night's London Gazette contains the announcement that he has been awarded the Military Cross.

The other awards announced are:

D.S.O. (including three bars) 20
Military Cross (seventeen bars) 219
D.C.M. 34

Military Medal 499

Here are some notable deeds:

"Temporary Lieutenant Commander Arthur Melland Asquith, R.N.V.R. (D.S.O.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He had been gassed on the night of the 8th April, and had been gassed again on the night of the 9th. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander Asquith is the ex-Premier's third son."

376 (now 491208) Corporal W. Mullins, London Regiment (D.C.M.)."

"He obtained leave to go up to the front when he heard a fight was imminent. Later, although wounded, he returned to brigade headquarters and gave a clear account of the situation and the fight. He has previously done fine work. Lieutenant-Commander As

Daily Mirror

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1917.

"YOU UNKIND PEOPLE!"

YOU never know which way the Hun's mind will swerve and lurch next, in its continuous endeavour to impose its views on the world; or else to excuse them, if it cannot impose them by force.

Before the war, and ever since the war began, the Hun preached and practised his gospel of ferocity, which he justified, with some of his kind, by claiming that it is unkind not to be cruel, because, obviously, the crueler the Hun is, the quicker the world will yield to him and give him all he wants.

The cruelty went on, then.

But the war went on too. Demonstrably, the sole effect of the cruelty was to deepen the intensity of hatred in the war; and so to prolong it; and so to make reconciliation harder; and also to secure that, after peace, a new generation must be born and grow up, before these things can be in any measure forgotten.

All this stares the Hun in his broad face. But he goes on wasting, ravaging, burning, mutilating. In a word he is still the Hun.

And of all his meaningless' measurless meannesses—things that for all time sadden humanity, as it thinks over itself and its destiny—comes first, to our mind, his sinking of hospital ships, whereon the wounded and war-sick travel, hoping for the common measure of human pity to preserve them in their suffering. We know it means—a thing inspeakable! We can say no more about it, save to repeat President Wilson's phrase—"a war against mankind."

Now when we bombard Freiburg from the air, it might be supposed that the Hun would indulge in one of his denunciations of all warfare, claiming that we English began it, as usual. Other modes of verbal defence, too, would be open to him. He avoids them. He says nothing about frightfulness. He alludes to no war doctrine of his own. Simply he begins to set up a tremulous wail, and, borrowing words used to move him many times in vain, clamours pitifully: "Oh, but you mustn't do that! That is not in the rules! You unkind people! Cruel! Pigs! We shan't play!"

Not otherwise, after pounding and beating all the small boys' heads, does the big bully behave when he encounters a bigger boy than himself. He runs to the Headmaster and, howling frightfully, exclaims: "Please, sir, he hit me!"—pointing to the boy.

But the Headmaster, unfortunately for him, has seen this sort of thing before. He merely says: "Run away. Run away and don't hit other people. Then, possibly, you may get the peace you now come to me to secure for you."

We shall hear more of these wails as the French and British follow their great successes with successes greater still. They are official wails—tears coursing down the Moloch cheeks of Prussia. They prove merely that Moloch too has nerves like the rest of the world—like Belgium, Serbia, Poland, France, the hospital ships, the open towns, the ruined countries, the tortured people whose bodies lie where the body-boiling Hun has passed in his career of ruin.

W. M.

A PRAYER.

Author of light, revive my dying spirit! Redeem it from the shades of all-confounding night! Lord, light me to Thy blessed way! For blind with worldly vain desires, I wander as a stray. Sun and moon, stars and under-lights I see; But all their glorious beams are mists and darkness, being compared to Thee.

Fountain of health, my soul's deep wounds recure! Sweet showers of pity rain, wash my uncleaness pure!

One drop of Thy desired grace The faint and fading heart can raise, and in joy's boundless range, the spirit's strength increase. Sin and death, hell and tempting fiends may rage, But God His own will guard, and their sharp pains and grief in time assuage.

CAMPION.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Hope creates its own object, and so rewards the man who has strength to conjure it up—Buller.

INDEPENDENCE—THE GREAT INCENTIVE.

HOW WAR WORK IS CALLING GIRLS FROM THEIR HOMES.

By F. THORNTON SMITH.

IS the war making girls mercenary? Yes, if I am to believe some of the statements mothers make to me.

"I let my girl of nineteen go willingly to war work," said one mother. "At this time every girl who is strong and healthy must and should do some form of work that is needed. But I never thought that the mere fact of coming home every week with her wages would make my own daughter resolve that she would never return to domestic life at home. There is no real need for her to earn her mand a salary of some kind. Ask any girl if she likes turning out every morning in the cold and bitter weather. The "comfortably off" girls hate getting up out of their cosy beds and fighting and struggling to get places in the early omnibuses and tubes. "But when I see the money at the end of the week and know that it is my very own to do what I like with I feel the game is worth the candle. After all, money talks. I can dress better if I want, or I can save—and I feel so much more important," says the war working daughter.

After the war will the girl who must give up her job to the man coming back to the place she has kept open for him crave for the actual money? Will she feel that the quieter life of home without its moneyed independence is too tame? Once get the feeling that living after the war. We are not rich people—just comfortably off—and my daughter is the type of hundreds of girls who before the war never dreamed of going out into the world to earn their living. Now she declares she never knew what a 'ripping' feeling it gave a girl to earn money of her very own and not have it doled out by her parents. Is this a sign that my girl is becoming mercenary and loving money for its own sake?"

WHEN WE ALL WEAR UNIFORMS.

We are coming to it. And why not? Uniforms improve our dreary civilisation.—(By W. K. Haselden.)

If a plebiscite of mothers who are in the same position as this one were to answer the question, probably the reply would be that the daughter who is earning money for the first time in her life is also savouring the sweets of independence. At present there is an enormous premium on youth. The flapper is sought for everywhere. She it is who can get posts denied to the older and more experienced woman. Few value experience at the present moment. It is youth that is most needed. And youth must be served. Every girl can com-life without plenty of money to burn is not worth living and a girl will never settle happily at home again.

If our girls are really becoming mercenary through learning that they can be wage-earners, both during and after the war, then it seems likely that the whole fabric of society will be changed. No daughter will want to stay at home and be an unpaid companion to her parents. At the end of every week she will miss going to the pay desk and receiving the welcome Treasury notes as in the war days. Money for its own sake will be valued. She will feel a lack of savor in her life when she no longer counts out her own earnings.

Perhaps this is the real test of the girl's character. At present there is no question whether she must stay at home and do nothing, or go out and hold some man's place for him. To the girl who is compelled to earn her own living after the war the question does not apply. Her salary will probably be only suffi-

TEASHOP WASTE.

SHOULD EATING IN THE AFTERNOON BE RENOUNCED TILL AFTER THE WAR?

ALWAYS CROWDED."

CAN anyone explain why the afternoon tea mania is still allowed to find expression? Why these teashops all crowded with people consuming bread and butter or toast or cakes? Does not this make a continual source of quite unnecessary waste?

Forbod afternoon tea!
Cromwell-road, S.W.

N. K.

FRENCH AND ENGLISH.

WITH due deference to your interesting article, I am obliged to point out that Frenchwomen of the upper-middle classes do not do their own marketing.

What they do is to send their servants to do it. In England the servants take orders at the door. That is the main difference.

L. N. E.

LITTLE AND SELDOM.

IN these days of enforced penance amongst our food-hogs it were well to recall a saying of the famous Abernethy to a patient who was always troubling about his diet. "Well, doctor, I'm here again, you see; you told me to eat little and often, and—I'm no better."

To whom Dr. Abernethy promptly gave the following most excellent rule: "Go home, sir, and try eating little and seldom."

If people would only try such self-control for a while they would reap a rich reward; for to many the pleasures of health are unknown, or forgotten as are the charms of music that once brightened their lives, and made them praise God naturally as do the birds and ploughboys. Dover.

C. H. H.

BIRDS' RATIONS.

I FAIL to see why we should starve the birds because man prefers killing to cultivation.

The birds are not responsible for the crisis, and if they could speak would probably be very critical of the "superiority" of man, as evinced by the present slaughter.

It would be neither logical nor just to ration the birds and animals in order to pay for the folly of man. NATURE.

IN MY GARDEN.

APRIL 17.—The swede is a nourishing vegetable and one that should be widely grown by the amateur gardener this year. It is of easy culture and does not require especially rich soil.

During favourable weather sow the seeds in drills about four inches apart. Draw the topsoil to the top towards the end of May. The young plants must be dusted with soot every now and then, and should be carefully thinned out to 12in. apart.

The roots can be dug up and stored late in the autumn in some corner with a covering to protect them from frost.

E. F. T.

client to provide the necessities of life. It is the "comfortably off" girl that is now getting extra money for dress and any other luxuries she fancies that is in danger of becoming mercenary.

Many mothers are really fearing the effect of this earning of money on their own daughters. They are told their views are old-fashioned. A girl's place is no longer the home. That is merely an Early Victorian fetish, say the progressive women of to-day. If a girl likes to earn money, whether she needs it or not, no one has a right to prevent her.

That will be clearer than ever when women get votes.

And whether she develops a sense of money loving, must be left to herself. After the war, say some, women will be harder in every way. And the greatest asset of woman, again say the progressives, will be the fact of her own monetary independence.

LORD FRENCH VISITS HULL

Field-Marshal Lord French, who opened a new V.A.D. hospital at Hull, receives the key with which he performed the ceremony from the matron, Lady Nunburnholme.

P.282 T P.19404 P.19404.
MR. ASQUITH'S SON AWARDED D.S.O.

Lieut.-Col. M. M. Asquith, R.N.V.R., Mr. Asquith's son, awarded the D.S.O. for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He has been wounded.

Capt. and Brev. Maj. F. P. Nowell, R.E., who has been awarded a bar to his D.S.O. for conspicuous gallantry and good leadership when in command of his battalion.—(Lafayette.)

Lieut.-Col. C. V. W. Hill awarded a bar to his D.S.O. for conspicuous gallantry and good leadership when in command of his battalion.—(Lafayette.)

P.6856 W

WEDDING OF IRISH OFFICER.

Captain K. W. Izod, of Chapelizod, Ireland, and his bride (Miss I. M. Inglis) leaving St. Peter's Church, Cranley-gardens.

CANADIANS GIVE A DRINK TO A BEATE

German machine-gun emplacement in the village of Thelus captured by the Canadians. (Canadian War Records.)

G.11922 W.

With some of the booty they captured at Tilloy.—(Official photograph.)

G.11923 W

Big umbrella for patients arriving

WOUNDED RUSSIAN SOLDIER IN LONDON.

A Russian soldier who was wounded on the western front being carried into a London hospital. A number of them are now fighting in France, and a few days ago they all took the oath of allegiance to the new regime.

Good news continues to come from the western front, machine guns, of which they made a big haul, various

TOE—SCENES ON THE BATTLEFIELD.

9.11922 W.

The taking of Vimy Ridge. Tending a wounded German on the battlefield.—(Canadian War Records.)

9.11923 W.

In the main street of Le Sars.—(Australian official photograph.)

9.2103 N

PASSENGERS PERISH IN A LIFEBOAT

A FAIR "METRO" WORKER

9.925 W.

Paris is being "run" by the women workers, who, in addition to making munitions, are filling all sorts of posts. Here is one of the workers on the Metropolitan Railway.

P.2414 P.19403 A. P.19403 A.
OFFICERS IN THE CASUALTY LIST.

Capt. Geoffrey Laird Jackson, killed. He was in the Harrow School cricket eleven in 1911, 1912 and 1913, being captain in his last year.

Maj. J. G. Fleming, R.E., D.S.O., wounded. He was instructor at the School of Military Engineering, and fought with distinction in South Africa.

Lt. C. M. Bradley, R.F.A., killed in the great advance. He was the second son of Colonel Sir Montague and Lady Bradley (Lafayette.)

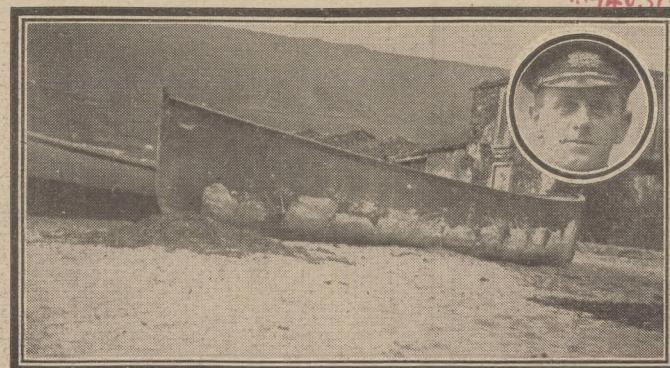

9.12294 D. INNOVATION AT DRURY LANE.

Girls dressed in Babylonian and other costumes, who receive visitors to the great film "Intolerance," at Drury Lane.—(Daily Mirror photograph.)

in hospital on wet days.

The men at Tilloy are seen with the weapons of war we captured 194 of them.

Lifeboat from the torpedoed steamer Alnwick Castle, in which a number of survivors reached the little harbour of Carino (Corunna). Among them was Mr. Black, the first officer (in circle). They suffered from hunger and exposure, and several succumbed.

GROW BEAUTIFUL HAIR FREE!

A SUGGESTION ALL MAY ADOPT.

1,000,000 Four-Fold Hair Health and Beauty Outfits FREE.

The Gift Comprises:

1. A Trial Bottle of Harlene for the Hair.
2. A Bottle of Uzon Brilliantine.
3. A Supply of Cremex Shampoo Powder.
4. A Hair Drill Manual.

After a Free Trial you will be able to obtain supplies of "Harlene" from your chemist at 1s. 1d.

HERE is a great opportunity and a valuable gift for every reader of this paper.

If you desire to look young and well-groomed, look to your hair. That is why the proprietors of the world-famous Hair-Growing Specific "Harlene" are offering 1,000,000 Outfits Free.

Here is a suggestion for you to adopt. Send for your Harlene Hair-Drill Four-fold Gift, and grow healthy, luxuriant and abundant hair.

Why not decide to-day to banish hair poverty for ever? Why wear attenuated, thin, impoverished, lifeless locks of hair when all the rich sparkle and abundance of hair in its natural healthy condition is yours for the asking?

Already a great host of people who have commenced these hair-beauty experiments say what a marvellous difference it has made to their hair.

All you have to do to secure your "Harlene Hair-Drill" gift is to forward the form below.

ACCEPT THIS WONDERFUL GIFT.

There is no restriction to this gift distribution. It is sufficient that you are troubled with any form of hair "ailment," or that you desire to improve the appearance of your hair.

The Gift parcel comprises—

1. A Free Trial Bottle of "Harlene" for the hair—the wonderful hair-growth stimulant and dressing that literally compels a magnificent growth of hair. The effect of "Harlene" on the hair gives to the face a refined beauty and distinction that would be altogether impossible with wear or artificially made-up hair.
2. A packet of the marvellous hair and scalp cleansing "Cremex" Shampoo Powder, which prepares the head for "Hair-Drill."
3. A bottle of "Uzon" Brilliantine, which gives a final touch of beauty to the hair, and is especially beneficial to those whose scalp is inclined to be "dry."
4. A copy of the new edition of the "Hair-Drill" Manual, giving complete instructions.

No hair trouble can defy the soothing, strengthening effect of "Harlene," and its scientific method of application, "Hair-Drill."

Don't continue to suffer from

1. Scalp Irritation.
2. Baldness.
3. Thin or Falling Hair.
4. Splitting Hairs.
5. Over-greasiness.
6. Scurf or Dandruff.

7. Wavy, Wiry Hair.

You will find "Harlene Hair-Drill" will awaken your hair to new life, and will bring back all its natural health and abundance.

From the wonderful merits of "Harlene" for yourself, without cost. The Gift parcel will be sent immediately you post coupon.

FREE GIFT COUPON

Fill in and post to EDWARDS' HARLENE Ltd., 20-22-24-26, Lamb's Conduit St., W.C.I.

Dear Sirs.—Please send me your free "Harlene" Four-fold Hair Growing Outfit as described above. Enclose 4d. in stamps for postage to any part of the world. (Foreign stamps accepted.)

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

Daily Mirror, April 18, 1917.

SELL YOUR Waste Paper
TO
PHILLIPS, MILLS & CO.
Ltd.
BATTERSEA, S.W. 11.

Price List Free on Application.

Telephone: Battersea 2270 (4 lines).

W.B. Reduso CORSETS

W.B. Reduso Corsets are specially designed for well developed and stout figures. Whether short, tall, heavy or plump, they will improve your figure at first wearing, and show delightfully slender results.

They actually reduce the hips and abdomen from "one to five" inches, and have the "OLD CORSET" comfort at first wearing, whilst Elastine Gores ensure comfort to the wearer in any position.

PROCURABLE AT ALL DRAPERS.

Illustrated booklet and name of nearest agent sent free on request. Write to W.B. Corsets, Dept. M., 28, London Wall, London, E.C. 2.

This FREE BOOKLET

tells you about the wonderful new appliance that dry-scrubs, dusts, cleans and polishes—the most rapid and effective time and labour-saver ever invented. Very light in weight and easy to use. Like a big hand on a long arm, it reaches everywhere from anywhere. Its uses are almost endless. Keeps clean and fresh always. Never requires boiling. Once it gets into your home you will find it indispensable.

RONUK

HOME POLISHER
Price 5/6 only, complete

For use with RONUK Sanitary Polish—the ideal polish—more thorough, lasting and economical than any other polishing medium—beautiful in its effect—does not smear.

Use RONUK Sanitary Polish always.

Of Stores, Grocers, Ironmongers and Ointmen, in Large, Medium and Small TINS only. Also LIQUID RONUK in upright tins. Interesting Booklet, "THERE'S THE RUB," gratis and post free from the Secretary, RONUK, Ltd., Portslade, BRIGHTON.

Constance Poulett, who will appear in the Pageant of Fair Women on May 8, Joan of Arc's Day.

Miss Poeran Lawson, niece of Viscount Monson, who devotes her time to sending comforts to our prisoners.

IRISH OPPOSITION.

Excitement in Political Circles Over Threatened Nationalist Obstruction.

I FOUND a good deal of suppressed excitement in political circles last night consequent upon the decision of the Nationalist Party to oppose the passing of the Bill extending the life of the present Parliament.

The Bill Safe.

BUT THE GOVERNMENT has the situation well in hand. The second reading was passed in the Commons last night by the substantial majority of 234, and although there may be a long sitting to-night to complete the remaining stages, there is every expectation that the Bill will reach the Statute Book well before April 30.

The Advancing Woman.

WE ARE living in an age of miracles. There are few of us, I venture to think, who would have believed at the beginning of the war that a measure for the enfranchisement of women would have been seriously considered by the British Government within three years. But a stranger thing has happened. Russia—the traditional home of feudalism—has embraced the principle of universal suffrage, and in future every girl of twenty in that country will be able to vote.

Combining Out the Harem.

ANOTHER official proclamation inviting the women of Turkey to enter all branches of the Civil Service sounds even more revolutionary. But it is well known that necessity is the mother of reform; and it looks as if our enemies of the Ottoman Empire were beginning to feel the wastage of man power.

Premier's Wife Resting.

Few WOMEN have worked harder lately than Mrs. Lloyd George. Not only London but various parts of the provinces have witnessed her activities, while her two daughters have been almost equally busy. The three are now resting at their house, Brynawelon.

Braxon Effrontry.

THESE WAS a time in Berlin when the great bronze statue of Bismarck was held sacred. It now, I hear, has been condemned to the melting pot as well as the statue of the Emperor Frederick erected in 1870. The reason is, of course, the shortage of metal in Germany.

A New Scout.

THESE WAS a flutter of enthusiasm amongst the boy scouts yesterday when the news came through that General Sir Robert Baden-Powell had received the gift of a daughter. Good luck to the new girl scout!

"Hamlet" at the Savoy.

OVERSEAS PEOPLE often express astonishment that in London none of Shakespeare's plays is being acted. Mr. H. B. Irving, in putting on "Hamlet," is supplying the need. It is interesting to recall that "Hamlet," when presented by him in Australia, was his most popular play.

In the Tradition.
BY THE WAY, I hear that Miss Elizabeth Irving, "H. B.'s" only daughter, will appear in the crowd at the performance of "The Bells," which is to be given at seven o'clock next Sunday evening for soldiers and sailors in uniform. There will be no charge.

Mr. H. B. Irving.

TO-DAY'S GOSSIP

News and Views About Men, Women, and Affairs in General

The Russian Hammer.

RUSSIA was much in the fashion yesterday. I went to the luncheon given by Lady Muriel Paget at the Savoy, where Mr. John Buchan made some apt remarks on the revolution, quoting the Russian poet Pushkin: "A heavy hammer shatters glass but forges steel."

A Slavonic Menu.

THE LUNCH—a meatless one with a Slavonic menu—was given in connection with Lady Muriel's coming Russian exhibition at the Grafton Galleries. Lady Juliet Duff was hostess at one table and Lady Sybil Grey, who was in Petrograd at the time of the revolution, presided at another, and had many thrilling stories to tell.

Russian Meals.

THESE ARE to be Russian meals at the exhibition, while travelling players give Tolstoy and Tchekhov plays. There will also be a balalaika orchestra, exhibition of ikons, jewellery and peasant ware. The proceeds will go to the Anglo-Russian hospitals in Petrograd and elsewhere.

Mme. Bornhardt III.

THE NEWS that Mme. Sarah Bernhardt is seriously ill cast a gloom over her countless admirers in London yesterday. It seems only yesterday that I saw her at the Coliseum as youthful as ever in her miraculous spirit of buoyancy.

From Melbourne to London.

I FOUND a large crowd of Anzacs at the Victoria Palace on Monday night. The chief object of interest—from their point of view was the appearance of Miss Rose Lee Ivy, who has been singing her way round the Empire to England. A recruiting song received an ovation.

Miss Rose Lee Ivy. (Hans) Melbourne. One of the speakers was Mr. Hughes, the Premier. After the meeting he said to Miss Ivy, "That song will do more good than all our speeches."

Back to the Boards.

MR. BASIL GILL, who has been working on the land, has, I learn, been granted three weeks' leave from his national duties to play Pygmalion to Miss May Anderson's Galatea at the Coliseum. He will start next Monday.

Princess at the Cinema.

THERE IS a cinema matinee to-day for the National Refugees for Homeless Children and the Training-Ships Arethusa and Chichester at the New Gallery Cinema. Princess Victoria Louise, I am told, will be present. The programme will include "Milestones" and some new war films.

Dancing Under Fire.

IT IS the Queen's command performance at the Playhouse to-day in aid of the Scottish Women's Hospital, which has done such excellent service in Rumania. Talking to one of the pretty girls back from Rumania this week, I was told that hard, and often terrible, as the work is, it is not without a lighter side. The Russian officers gave the nurses a dance one night less than four miles from the enemy's lines.

Actor for Sale.

WHEN I LOOKED in at the Prince's Theatre yesterday to see something of the matinee in aid of the Metropolitan Special Constabulary Motor-Ambulance Vans for the front, I found Mr. Seymour Hicks "up for sale." Quite a lot of people seemed anxious to buy, and the first offer was £s. 6d.

£10,000 for Mr. Hicks.

THIS CAUSED MR. HICKS to look, or feign to look, very disconsolate, but he cheered up as the price rose. "You're a gentleman," he said to someone in a box who bid £7,000. Eventually he was "knocked down" to Commander Stuart, of E Division, for £10,000.

To-day's Economy Hint.

FROM Edgware.—Cut off all round the hem of table-cloths that show signs of wear and rehem them. This makes folds come in different places when the table-cloths are ironed. Sheets hem-stitched top and bottom—work easily done at home—can be reversed and used a second week, saving wear and money.

Golf and Fiction.

A NOTED PROFESSOR has been demonstrating that there is a subtle connection between proficiency in golf and successful diplomacy. Strangely enough, the new Daily Mirror serial is by Mr. Mark Allerton, who is a very popular author and also a well-known golfer. Literature and the links are Mr. Allerton's absorbing passions, and the success he has attained in both suggests that the professor's theory may be applied to golf and literature.

The Story of a Great Love.

MR. ALLERTON's new serial, which will begin on Monday next, is the story of a great and enduring love, which has inspired a strong man to "make good" for the sake of a girl. It is a wonderfully fine description of a great problem in life—whether it is wise to remember and to idealise.

Hats and the Kindergarten.

A WOMAN tells me that the latest ornament for a large sailor hat is a collection of coloured beads worked into either a diamond or square shape. The effect is rather suggestive of the wired beads by which children learn to count.

The Mystic Number.

I TOUCHED the fringe of a Richard Le Gallienne-like romance the other evening. Dining in a West End restaurant with a friend and his wife, I noticed that my friend raised his glass and said to his wife, "Twenty-seven." He then turned to me. "That is our secret toast," he said. I suppose he must have noticed my expression of bewilderment for he went on, "You see, the twenty-seventh was the day on which we were married."

Rev. Dr. J. H. Jowett, who will succeed Dr. Campbell Morgan at Westminster Chapel.

Major T. H. Parry, M.P., who was invalided home from Gallipoli, again reported wounded.

The Duke's Afternoon.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT lives a breathless life. He came in for a few minutes to see the 300 wounded entertained by the City of London School in their great hall yesterday afternoon, explaining that he wished he could stay to see their show, but, alas! had just come from a Lifeboat Day meeting, and was off again to another. Lady Jellicoe promised to act as his deputy, and, side by side with the Lord Mayor, saw the good programme through.

Making the Best of It.

MR. WALTER M. GALLICHAN tells me that he is bringing out a book this week, the title of which is "Life Enjoyable." The man who finds life enjoyable these days may fairly be described as an optimist, though it is true that the British and French communiques make pleasant reading for the breakfast table.

A Sunday Morning Sale.

SOME TRADESMEN are not doing so badly, despite—or thanks to—the potato shortage. This week I heard a greengrocer admit that between nine o'clock on Sunday morning and one o'clock in the afternoon he cleared, by the sale of potatoes alone, £70!

Feeling the Pinch.

MY DUBLIN CORRESPONDENT tells me he asked a well-known merchant (an ex-Lord Mayor of the city) if a statement that snuff is being sold in large quantities applied to Ireland. "Undoubtedly," he replied to tobacco king, "Everybody seems to be feeling the pinch."

THE RAMBLER.

That's what you want for your Skin Trouble

Are you worried by eczema which tortures you all day and won't let you sleep at night? Are you disfigured by face spots? Are your hands red, rough or cracked? Is there an itching rash on your back or chest? Have you had a bad place on your leg for a long time? There's a certain remedy for every one of these troubles. Antexema immediately stops the itching, and soon, and for ever, removes every blemish from your skin. That's why you need Antexema.

Whatever your skin complaint, Antexema will cure it completely and permanently. Eczema, bad legs, bad hands, baby skin troubles, pimples, rashes, and all irritated, inflamed or diseased skin conditions are conquered by Antexema. The healing process starts immediately, new skin begins to grow, every day you see a steady improvement, and soon every sign of skin illness disappears. Get a bottle to-day, and at once start your cure before your skin becomes worse. Antexema succeeds after innumerable so-called remedies, doctors and hospitals have failed even to give temporary relief. There is nothing else like Antexema.

Antexema is All British

The Antexema formula was discovered by a West End physician some thirty years ago, and every bottle is made up in our own laboratory from his original prescription, under skilful, scientific direction. As soon as Antexema is applied it forms an invisible, artificial skin over the bad place, which excludes dust and germs, and rapidly heals the trouble. Get a bottle of Antexema immediately and your skin complaint will soon be ended.

Do your duty to your skin and get Antexema to-day. Supplied by all chemists and stores everywhere. Also of Boots Cash Chemists, Army and Navy, Civil Service Stores, Harrod's, Selfridge's, Whiteley's, Parkes, Taylor's Drug Co., Timothy White's and Lewis and Burrows' at 1s 3d. and 3s per bottle, or direct post free in plain wrapper, 1s 6d. and 3s, from Antexema, Castle Laboratory, London, N.W. 1. Also throughout India, Australasia, Canada, Africa and Europe.

NEWMARKET'S START.

Sir Abe Bailey's Brown Prince Wins Three-Year-Old Stakes.

Racing under Jockey Club rules was resumed at Newmarket yesterday. Naturally the attendance was small owing to the railway restrictions and the fact that the cheaper enclosures were not opened at all. The weather was cold, but sport all round was good, even if nine races in one day was rather a tax on endurance.

The honour of owning the first two-year-old winner of the year went to Major Logan-Kiston, who gave 310 guineas at the owners' sales last year for Lord Allan, the winner of the Asday Plate. The colt is by Bridge of Allan—Lady Birdie.

The named prize, the Spring Three-Year-Old Stakes, did not run, and the name of Mr. Hulton's colts, deputising for the dead, was made a dead certainty. The 3-year-old St. James's Plate was won by the 3-year-old, but was beaten into third place behind Sir Abe Bailey's Brown Prince and Hall's Prince, a smart two-year-old in Beaufort, belonging to Lord Londonderry, carried off Division I. of the Fitzwilliam Stakes.

My selections for to-day are appended:—

2.30—THREE-YEAR-OLD PLATE: CHEROKEE.
3.30—SPEARS STAKES: DIADEM, if absent; PATLANDER.
4.0—WOOD DITTON STAKES: SUNSET GLOW.
4.30—COLUMBIA PRODUCE STAKES: COQ D'OR.

DOUBLE EVENT FOR TO-DAY.

"COQ D'OR and CHEROKEE."

ROUVERIE.

NEWMARKET RACING RETURNS.

10.—APPRENTICES' HANDICAP (Class II).—
SOUTH PARK (10-1), 1000s, 22, 2.30. Also ran: Oblique (11-4), 2; Nereid (10-0), 3. Also ran: King's Assurance (2-1), Grately (10-1), Aurora, Sabotier, Wallach, and the 3-year-old Star, Limpsfield, Chrysanthus, King Agrippa, Signal, Polymer, and the 3-year-old Lass, Galloway, and Lovley Lass, Beauty of Kildare and Mi Carreme (1-20).

1.30—APPRENTICES' HANDICAP (Class II).—
THE BEEHIVE (10-0), 1000s, 22, 1.30. Also ran: Neville Holt (10-0), 3. Also ran: Tinkham (10-1), Macleach, Greek Scholar, William the Bear, Beaumon, Louviers d'Or, Dibden, Alabaster and Aliana (100-8).

2.30—APPRENTICES' HANDICAP (Class II).—
MARTIN (2-1), 22, 2.30. Also ran: Pergola (5-1), Foreground (6-1), Rare Ruby (100-8), G. Martin (5-1), Foreground (6-1), Pergola, Saville, Trevi (10-1), King on the Aura, Crimson Bit, a Dog, White about c. The Broom c. Blue John, Temple Bell c. All Out, and the 3-year-old Lady Desmond, f. Lady Jack and L. Felle (20-2).

2.30—CRAWEURD PLATE (Class II).—
POLLY'S JACK (10-0), 200, 2.30. Also ran: Rosicus (7-1), 2; Tingwalla (10-0), 3. Also ran: Mount Willam (10-1), Sandmole, Silur, Lux, Charnwood, and the 3-year-old Phone and Myrrhine (100-8).

3.30—VISITORS' PLATE.—
IM—OCYDROME (10-0), 22, 3.30. Also ran: Whalley (1-1), Passport (10-0), 2; Sandmole (8-1), 3. Also ran: The Pole (3-1), Chapel (10-0), 2; Gisela, Gillette, the Filiment (10-0), 3; Tom Berney, Ceyx, Even, Romon, Carley, Gunning, Hakki, Market, Longsidge, and Blythynia (10-0).

4.0—SPRING THREE-YEAR-OLD STAKES.—
MORAWI (10-0), 200, 4.0. Also ran: Marmalade (6-1), Phalarias (9-4), 2; Erl King (6-1), 3. Also ran: Mount Willam (10-1), Sandmole, Silur, Lux, Charnwood, and the 3-year-old Phone and Myrrhine (100-8).

3.30—VISITORS' PLATE.—
IM—OCYDROME (10-0), 22, 3.30. Also ran: Whalley (1-1), Passport (10-0), 2; Sandmole (8-1), 3. Also ran: The Pole (3-1), Chapel (10-0), 2; Gisela, Gillette, the Filiment (10-0), 3; Tom Berney, Ceyx, Even, Romon, Carley, Gunning, Hakki, Market, Longsidge, and Blythynia (10-0).

4.0—SPRING THREE-YEAR-OLD STAKES.—
MORAWI (10-0), 200, 4.0. Also ran: Marmalade (6-1), Phalarias (9-4), 2; Erl King (6-1), 3. Also ran: Mount Willam (10-1), Sandmole, Silur, Lux, Charnwood, and the 3-year-old Phone and Myrrhine (100-8).

4.30—BUTWICH STAKES (Division I).—
BEAUFORT (21, J. H. Martin, 1; Cattewater (8-1), 2;

2.30—LONDON AMUSEMENTS.

ADEPHYL, New Musical Comedy. HIGH JINKS.

TOURIST, At the New Theatre. MARIE BLANCHE, W. H. BERRY, NELLIE TAYLOR, Bessie, 10 to 10. Tel. 2645 and 8866 Ger.

APOLLO (Gdr. 324). 20. New Farce by COOPER.

DALIA, 22. 20. New Farce by COOPER.

DOROTHY MINTO, COMEDY. FREDERIC BENTLY, CRITERION.

EDWARD, 22. 20. The Celebrated Farce.

Evenings at 8. Mat. Wed. Theatres, 2.30.

DALY'S, At the GLOBE, MAID OF THE MOUNTAINS.

THE GEORGE EDWARDES Production. Jose Collins, Mabel Shae, Laude de Frece, Mark Lester, Thorne Bates, Arthur, and Mabel, 22. 20.

DRURY LANE, TWICE DAILY, at 2.30 and 8.

Mr. ARTHUR COLLINS presents D. W. GRIFFITH'S Old Testament Drama, DAVID, 22. 20.

DUKE OF YORK'S, 2.30 and 8.15. DADDY LONG-LEGS.

DAILY TELEGRAPH, 2.30, EVENINGS, Weds. Thurs. Sat. 8.15.

GAETY, NIGHTLY, at 8. Mat. Weds. Thurs. Sat. 8.15.

GARRICK, (Ger. 5913). A Comedy by Louis N. Parker and Murray Carson. Today, 2.30. Mat. Weds. Thurs. Sat. 8.15.

MARION TERRY, 2.30. HERBERT WARING, 2.30.

GLOBE, TO-DAY, 2.30 and 8.15. Ger. 8722.

and Harry Piller, with Stanley Lupino, in.

NUZZETTE, Mat. Mon. Weds. Sat. 2.30.

HAYMARKET, At the Haymarket, 8.30. GENERAL POST, Mat. 22. 20. Little Bazaar, Godey, 2.30.

HIS MAJESTY'S, Mat. Wed. Thurs. Sat. 2.30.

CHI CHI CHOW, 2.30. TONIGHT.

A Musical Tale of the East.

NEW SCENES, 2.30 and 8.15.

NEW THEATRE, Evenings at 8.15 sharp.

THE OLD LADY SHOWS HER MEDALS, by J. M. Barrie, with the 3-year-old, 2.30.

NUFFIN' JUMBLE, by A. E. W. Mason, 2.30.

MATINEE, THURSDAYS and SATURDAYS, at 2.30.

PLAYBOY, 2.30 and 8.30. FOR 2 weeks only.

FORBES-BEDFORD IN THE PASSING OF THE THIRD FLOOR BACK.

By George Jerome, Mat. Weds. Sat. 2.30.

QUEENS', 2.30. THE DOUBLE EVENT.

Today at 2.30. Every Evening, at 8.15 sharp.

ETHEL, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

DENNIS EADIE, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

THEATRE, Mat. 10.15.

ST. JAMES', KINGST. ST. JAMES', S.W. (Ger. 3903). A Musical Comedy. THE TROUBLE WITH LUCILLE, by Louis N. Parker and Murray Carson, 2.30.

GEORGE ALEXANDER, 2.30. GENEVIEVE WARD, 2.30.

MATINEE, WED. THURS. SAT. 2.30.

ROXIE, 2.30. Evenings at 8.15.

THEATRE, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

SHARKEY, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

THREE YEARS.

SHARKEY, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

HARRY LEVEY, 2.30.

BLIND TONIN, Mainman Lane in "Under Cover,"

Even. at 8.15. Matines every Thurs. Sat. at 2.30.

THIS WEEK, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

THEATRE, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

SHARKEY, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

THEATRE, 2.30. Mat. 10.15.

SHARKEY, 2.30. Mat.

READ MR. BOTTOMLEY'S ARTICLE IN "SUNDAY PICTORIAL"

G.11922 2c.

TO BE DESTROYED WHEN THE HUNS RETREAT.

Daily Mirror

P.13250.

TO HELP BLIND SOLDIERS.

Mrs. Ian Bullough (Miss Lily Elsie), who will preside over a stall at next month's sale at the Albert Hall for the care of the blinded men after the war. Sir George Bullough, her brother-in-law, gave her a horseshoe belonging to Ballymacad, the Grand National winner, which she sold for £100.—(Rita Martin.)

P.19403A.

CANADIAN CHAPLAIN MARRIED.

The Rev. J. Thornton and his bride (Miss Judith Birkbeck), who were married at Holy Trinity, Sloane-street, yesterday.

P.19403A. P.14368.

THREE AIRMEN IN THE NEWS.

Paul Lufbery, an American pilot in France. American airmen with the French army have been directed to remain at the front.

Flight-Com. R. G. Mack, R.N., who is reported as missing.

Squadron-Com. John J. Petre, awarded the D.S.C. He has taken part in many aerial air raids on Ostend and Zeebrugge.

A church which has been converted into a hospital behind the Hindenburg line.

GUARDING THE GERMAN LINERS AT NEW YORK.

A destroyer is always there in case an attempt to escape should be made.

ALLURING CREATIONS AT DRAPERY TRADE EXHIBITION.

There are miles of stalls, laden with dainty articles of feminine wear, at the Drapery and Outfitting Trades Exhibition at the Agricultural Hall, Islington. Here are two bathing dresses and an embroidered summer frock fastened at the waist with beautiful coral ornaments.—(Daily Mirror photographs.)